

Alex Leyshon
Sales Manager

Alex became the SCIPAC sales manager in 2011, from our sister company BBIInternational. He has many years of experience working within sales in the IVD industry. His roles and responsibilities will focus on the company sales strategy and caring for both new and existing customers.

Emma Stone
Sales Account Manager

Emma is helping our customers with her cheerful and conscientious service in sales, focusing on our European customer base. She brings considerable background technical experience in antibodies, isolation techniques and microbiology.

Nathan Fretz
Sales Account Manager

Nathan joined SCIPAC at the beginning of 2011 and brings with him over 14 years of experience in the medical diagnostic industry. He holds a Bachelor's degree in business management and is based in California. Nathan looks after our U.S. customers.

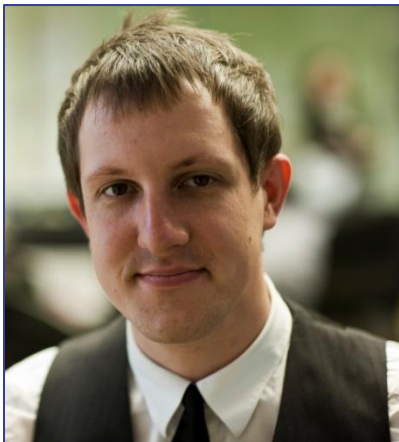

Tammy Hamilton
Head of Customer Services

Tammy joined SCIPAC in 1992 and has a valuable and extensive knowledge of our clients and their requirements. As customer services manager, Tammy and her team support the sales team and help process your orders.

William Rapley
Customer Services Senior Assistant

Will works in the customer services team, processing orders and supplying you with the paperwork and support you require. Will has excellent administrative and personnel skills.

Holly Leigh
Senior Sales Account Manager

Holly joined SCIPAC in 2001 following her graduation in Biological Sciences. After gaining vast experience in the laboratory, shipping and sales, she is now responsible for caring for customers in academia and ecommerce.
